P.C. VICE

A NOTE FROM LUCIE THISTLE (the school nurse)
There are a lot of bad colds lately. If you happen to be one of it's victims, stay home from school as long as it takes for you to feel better, don't force it. If you have a persistent fever for more than two days, if you cough up anything greenish or bloody, or if you experience chest pains, report to your physician. The use of some nose drops, cold tablets, lozenges and cough mixtures have long term bad effects. Use only what is prescribed for you. Once you feel better and can go out again, dress appropriately for the weather.

JOKERS OF THE WEEK CONVENTION.**

Last Tuesday, the PC Flamingo held it's first annual convention for potential "JOKE OF THE WEEK" comedians. Among those present were Allison Eccles, Diane Perry, Marco Boccia, Tina Apostolakos, Rubi Felix, Tisha Ward and Mr. McGee. Allison and Diane gave the first joke: What is yellow and goes CLICK-CLICK? A ballpoint banana. The second joke was by Marco: How do you get a monkey out of a tree? Kill it. Marco was on a roll that afternoon so he gave us another one. How did the Newfie break his arm raking leaves? He fell out of the tree! Tina and Rubi created this next work of art: What do you get when you freeze holy water? The answer is Popesicles. Why didn't the skeleton cross the road? This is Tisha's classic. He had no guts. The last and best joke at the convention was by Mr. McGee. "Did you hear the joke about the three eggs? No. Two bad." For all the people that missed the convention, it was an historic event.

THE TRAP

(EPISODE 10)

Suddenly, twenty punkers rushed in from each side of the fire escape holding pitchforks and axes. Pocket was stunned. Sophia laughed and said, "You're such a naive fool that you fell for the whole act." (It was a set-up). Pocket was outnumbered. The punkers grabbed him. Sophia said "Any last requests before my pets turn you into shish kebab?" Pocket said, "Yes, I'd just like to know why you did this." She said, "My pets and I are part of an underground conspiracy devoted to the destruction of this school. PC VICE has always stood in our way. Once you then Tux and your boss Armadillo are taken care of, school crime will reign once again. Then my pets will be able to corrupt the students and then the teachers until PCHS has no meaning any longer." Pocket said, "You're sick, demented, and you will never ever get away with this." Sophia said, "Just watch us." She signalled the punkers to kill Pocket. Suddenly a voice from nowhere said, "FREEZE P C VICE!" Tux was standing at the top of the stairs. Sophia screamed, "Kill Tux as well!" The punkers started charging towards Tux with their axes and pitchforks. Tux killed a few with his shotgun but it just made the other punkers more wild. The punkers kept coming wave after wave.....TO BE CONTINUED!!!!
