

This week, the honour of GOTW goes to John Stephen Smegelski. He has been going to P.C. for many years now. During that time he has earned recognition as a brilliant scholar and outstanding TAG student. He even claims that once he overheard Miss Toscano whispering to Mrs. Barrette, "This child is THE greatest TAG student that I have ever taught in all my years at this school!" Stephen's favorite subject is English taught by Mrs. Bunny Roberts. His favorite teacher is Mrs. Roberts who teaches him English. Stephen also works hard on extra-curricular activities. Currently he is working on a special program with Mr. Litschauer to aid the handicapped. In the past he was head of the stage crew for our school production of the play The Wizard of Oz. Last year he played "the sad clown" in the play BARNUM. Stephen intends to work on the school play this year as well. Stephen was also a member of the group "Twisted Brother" that tried out for the carnival variety show last year but due to some minor technicality, unfortunately his group didn't get into the show. Don't worry because Stephen and the gang is coming back this year with a whole new act. Out of school, he is a master of the accordion and has performed in many cities across the country. Speaking of famous celebrities, Stephen would like everyone to know that he has been a good friend of Tupur's for five years now and is proud to be a member of Tup's Famous Fan Club. If you would like to be a member, please leave your name and phone number with Stephen. Next we asked Stephen if he could go out with one girl in this school who would it be? Stephen tried to keep his love life secret but after receiving hours of extensive torture from our staff, he gave in and said, "She is this gorgeous girl in my homeroom class!" When Stephen graduates this year, he won't be totally forgotten. David Smegelski, his younger brother who is currently in grade seven intends to follow his big brother's footsteps. Stephen's goal in life is to be "a financial kingpin". His advice to the rest of the school is, "Nothing is impossible if you do your best!"

GRAD OF THE WEEK :

Stephen Smegelski

If you would like more details on the great Stephen, look for him in the cafeteria or library during senior lunch. If you are a gorgeous girl in his homeroom class, please look for him- ANYTIME !

SENIOR CO-ED BADMINTON TOURNAMENT

by Mark Leblanc and Jason Machado

Recently a few female students in phys.ed 53 along with Mrs. Hemmings, organised a co-ed badminton tournament. Much interest was taken and approximately twenty couples registered to compete. Teachers and students joined together for once to make this an exciting event. The tournament has not yet ended, however there are three unbeaten teams left. One team consists of Brian Wemsley and Tisha Warda. Brian is one of the school's top seeds along with Jerry Franco and Jason Machado while Tisha has played remarkably well for a beginner. The team of Carter-Brisson is also very strong and unbeaten. The third team of considerable strength is the duo of Janiszewski-Prieur who are playing up to expectations. An honourable mention goes to the teams of Alexander-Chadi and Hatzimimis-Hemmings. When asked which match was the most exciting of the tournament, the unanimous answer was the teams of Mark Leblanc-Ruby Felix and Jason Machado-Tracey Dorrance when they played each other. Mark tried desperately to keep his team alive but the other team was too strong. The major upset of the tournament was when experienced Maria François and Mike Kalita defeated the Machado-Dorrance team. On this victory, they deserve special credit. Good luck to the remaining participants, and may the best cohesive unit win !

JOKE OF THE WEEK by Chris Markou

This is a late Christmas joke that was recently submitted by Chris. What does a cat get after walking through the desert? SANDY CLAWS ! While we are on the topic of cats and deserts, concerning the INS and OUTS and related subjects article from last year, we were left dangling concerning the whereabouts of Mrs. Drouin. Brian Wemsley claims that he saw her working at a hospital recently.
